

Political Psychology Networking Conference, Schedule

	Friday
14:00– 16:45	Behaviour Genetics Workshop (Popper room)
17:00 – 18:30	Political Psychology PhD Class Research Proposal Presentations (Popper room)
18:45 – 19:45	Opening Lecture (Bert Klandermans, auditorium)
19:45 -	Reception

	Saturday	Sunday
8:30 -10:00	Two Panels: Leadership (Popper Room) Attitude (Gellner Room)
10:00– 10:30	Coffee	Coffee
10:30 – 12:00	Two Panels: Emotions and Cognition (Popper Room) Ethnicity (Gellner Room)	Two Panels: Personality and Value Systems. (Popper Room) Ideology (Gellner Room)
12:00 – 13:00	Lunch	Lunch
13:00 – 14:00	Lecture (Dinka Corkalo, Popper Room)	Lecture (David Redlawsk Popper Room)
14:00– 15:30	Two Panels: Political Behaviour (Popper Room) IR (Gellner Room)	Dynamic Process Tracing Environment (DPTE) Workshop (David Redlawsk, Popper Room)
15:30– 16:00	Coffee
16:00 – 17:30	Two Panels: Political Information (Popper Room) Participation (Gellner Room)
18:00 – 19:00	Lecture (Alex Mintz, Auditorium)
21:00 -	Dinner

Schedule:

Friday, November 25th

14:00-16:45:

Workshop: Behaviour Genetics

Instructor: Levente Littvay, Central European University

Room: Popper Room, Monument Building.

17:00-18:30:

Panel: Political Psychology Class

Room: Popper, Monument Building.

18:45-19:45:

Opening Lecture:Contextualizing Contestation: Movements, Organizers, and the Internet

Keynote: Bert Klandermans, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam and President of ISPP

Room: Auditorium, Faculty Tower

19.45- Reception

Saturday, November 26th

8:30-10:00

Panel: Leadership

Room: Popper, Monument Building

Chair: Gergo Zavecz, Central European University

Papers: Leader effects in corrupted countries: trust-repair and the selection of “good” (or less bad) representatives.

Diana Elena Burlacu, Central European University

What do Personality and Leadership Style tell us about the Quality of Democracy?

Bojana Kocijan, Central European University

Simulated democracy and pseudo-transformational leadership in Hungary

György Lengyel and Gabriella Ilonszki, Corvinus University Budapest

Political Representation and Representation of Politicians: the “Think Politician Think Male” Phenomenon

Monika Kovács, ELTE University Budapest

Presidential character revisited: The role of president-related factors in influencing the activism of Post-Communist presidents

Philipp Köker, University College London

Disc: Levente Littvay, Central European University

Panel: Personality and Values

Room: Gellner, Monument Building

Chair: Thorsten Faas, Mannheim University

Papers: East vs. West: Mobilization and Political Attitudes in Europe

Jeff Karp and Caitlin Milazzo, University of Exeter

Everything is important, so nothing is extreme: Individual differences in extreme political attitude formation

Zoltan Fazekas, University of Vienna

Discontent Rather Than Cynicism: Attitudes of Hungarians Towards the Political, Social, and Legal System

Mihály Berkics, ELTE

Social responsibility or demandingness? About nature of obligation in post-communist and old democracies in European countries

Magdalena Żemojtel-Piotrowska, University of Gdansk

Jarosław Piotrowski, Social Sciences and Humanities Warsaw School

Mind the Gap - Attitudes Toward the Legal and Political System in Hungary During Constitutional Flux

Péter Krekó and György Hunyady, ELTE

Disc Paul Weith, Central European University

10:00– 10:30: Coffee Break

10:30-12:00

Panel: Emotion and Cognition

Room: Popper, Monument Building.

Chair: David Redlawsk, Rutgers University

Papers: The Emotional Voter. An Experimental Study of the Moderating effect of Emotions on Partisan Behavior

Kiss Zsolt and Sarah B. Hobolt, University of Oxford

State elections in light of the affective-intelligence-model: The (German) Case of Baden-Württemberg

Thorsten Faas, Mannheim University

Polish Regret for the Polish People's Republic and Nostalgia as a an Emotion

Monika Prusik, University of Warsaw

Political Thinking in Lithuania through the lenses of cognitive schema theory

Ieva Petronytė, Vilnius University

The Cognition of Wage Distribution in the Post-Communist Region Justice Profiles on the Micro Level

Zsofia Ignacz, Humboldt University of Berlin

Disc: Sebastian Adrian Popa, Central European University

Panel: Ethnicity

Room: Gellner, Monument Building

Chair: Gabriella Ilonszki, Corvinus University Budapest

Papers: Communicating nationalism into the national psyche in modern Russia: exploring the cognitive and emotive aspects of ultranationalist symbols

Dennis Zuey, Center for Research and Studies in Sociology (CIES-ISCTE), Lisbon

Signs of ethnic conflicts on prison graffiti in Hungarian prisons

Gergely Fliegauf, Rendőrtiszti Főiskola (Police College), Budapest

Socioeconomic status and ethnicity in relation to severity of psychiatric diagnosis in post-war Croatia

Ivana Begić

The Normality of Racism: Effects of the Perceived Normative Context on the Anti-Roma Prejudice of Hungarian Adolescents

Luca Váradi, Humboldt University of Berlin

Peace Education as Instrument for prevention of Violence

Nusreta Kepeš, University Bihac, Zenica

Disc: Dinka Corkalo Biruski, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences Zagreb

12:00-13:00: Lunch break

13:00-14:00:

Lecture: Intergroup reconciliation: The „unbearable lightness“ of saying, the unbearable heaviness of doing it

Keynote: Dinka Corkalo Biruski, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences Zagreb

Room: Popper, Monument Building

14:00-15:30

Panel: Political Behaviour

Room: Popper, Monument Building

Chair: Paul Weith, Central European University

Papers: Ruptures of the frozen surface – The changing political reality of the 2010 elections and a path analysis of voting behaviour

Krisztián Pósch, ELTE

Post-communist mentality: Theoretical framework, empirical evidence and prevailing puzzles

Martina Klicperová-Baker, Academy of Sciences of the Czech Republic

Leader traits and the personalization of voting Behaviour in Romanian National Elections

Andrei Gheorghiuță, Lucian Blaga University, Sibiu

The role of political information in “attitude congruent” electoral decisions

Sebastian Adrian Popa, Central European University

Disc: Jeffrey Karp, Exeter University

Panel: International Relations and Conflict Resolutions

Room: Gellner, Monument Building.

Chair: Alex Mintz, Lauder School of Government, Diplomacy and Strategy at the Interdisciplinary Center Herzliya.

Papers: Russian Foreign Policy Held Captive by its Psychological Complexes

Elena Kropatcheva, University of Hamburg

Permanent social threat, challenge for building democratic society

Eleonora Serafimovska and Marijana Markovik, Institute for Sociological Political and Juridical Research-Skopje

Permanent social threat, challenge for building democratic society

Paszkál Kiss, Eötvös Lorán University

Stereotyping in Conflict: the Case of the Russo-Georgian War

Dmitry Chernobrov, St. Andrews University

The struggle for reparation of refugee torture survivors in Hungary

Adrienn Kroo, University of Pécs

Disc: Erin Jenne, Central European University

15:30– 16:00: Coffee Break

16:00-17:30:

Panel: Political Information

Room: Popper, Monument Building

Chair: Sebastian Adrian Popa, Central European University

Papers: Authentic personal civic-schema and its consequences for political information processing

Plamen Dimitrov, Bulgarian Psychological Society

Nadia Mateeva, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences

Political Cognitions in Interaction - the Generational Gap in Post-communist Bulgaria
Post-communist Bulgaria

Alina Dobрева, BBSS Gallup, Bulgaria

“Correct Voting” in Direct Legislation

Thomas Milic, University of Berne

Aware But Mistrustful – Hungarian Laypeople’s Knowledge of Legal Terms, Support for Values of the Constitutional State and (Mis)trust in Jurisdiction

Krisztián Pósch, ELTE

The influence of question format on the reliability of political knowledge scales

Paul Weith and Gabor Toka, Central European University

Disc: David Redlawsk, Rutgers University

Panel: Political Participation and Mobilization

Room: Gellner, Monument Building.

Chair: Cosmin Artimof, Central European University

Papers: Listening to Radicals: The Findings of the European Study of Youth Mobilisation (ESYM)

Jeffrey Stevenson Murer and Oliver Lauenstein, St. Andrews University

Authoritarian political culture and citizen participation: A comparative study of established and post-communist European democracies

Andrej Kirbiš, Bojan Musil, Sergej Flere, Marina Tavčar Krajnc and Andrej Naterer, University of Maribor

Giving Up On Politics: The Political Consequences of Learned Helplessness

Inta Mierina, University of Warsaw

A Case of Shoe Leather Trumping Clicks - Online/Offline Mobilization and Voter Engagement in the 2009 European Parliament

Constantin Manuel Bosancianu, Central European University

(Small) Talk that matters: patterns of social networks and political discussion in new democracies

Oana Lup, Central European University

Disc: Bert Klandermans, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam

18:00-19:00

Lecture: How leaders make decisions? Evidence from computerized experiments

Keynote: Alex Mintz, Lauder School of Government, Diplomacy and Strategy at the Interdisciplinary Center Herzliya, Editor of Political Psychology

Room: Auditorium, Faculty Tower.

21:00– Dinner at Trofea Restaurant – Address: 1027 Budapest, Margit krt. 2.

Sunday, November 27th

10:00– 10:30:Morning Coffee

10:30-12:00

Panel:Attitudes

Room: Popper, Monument Building

Chair: Oana Lup, Central European University

Papers: Shaping and modelling average personality in process of long lasting transition – case of the Republic of Macedonia

Marijana Markovikand Eleonora Serafimovska, Institute for Sociological Political and Juridical Research-Skopje

Authenticity of egalitarian political bias as moderator of relationships between socioeconomic status and self-esteem

Plamen Dimitrov, Bulgarian Psychological Society

Nadia Mateeva, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences

Sources of Tolerance: Individual Psychological Predispositions or Environmental Conditions?

Lenka Drazanova, Humboldt University of Berlin

Happier in communist times? Pessimism and subjective well-being in Post-Communist Romania

Sergiu Bălțătescu, University of Oradea

Social and economic status as a factor of value-orientational self-determination of the Ukrainian citizens

Vadym Vasiutynskyi, Institute of Social and Political Psychology Kyiv

Disc: Zoltan Fazekas, University of Vienna.

Panel:Ideology

Room: Gellner, Monument Building

Chair: Diana Elena Burlacu, Central European University

Papers: Conspiratorial thinking, ideological and historical cleavages in Croatia

Nebojša Blanuša, University of Zagreb

Connection between need for closure and political conservatism

Lantos Nóra Anna, Károli Gáspár University of the Reformed Church in Hungary

Nóra Ven, University of Szeged, Institute of Psychology,

Szabolcs Gergő Harsányi, Eötvös Loránd University, Faculty of Education and Psychology, University of Szeged, Institute of Psychology

Measuring a whole Concept with only one Item

Ágnes Szabó, Judit Fodor, Balázs Fehér and Nóra Miklós, ELTE

Ádám Szabó, Corvinus University of Budapest

Support for Civil Liberties and Paths To Taking Action for Human Rights in Hungary

Judit Kende, ELTE

Psychological and physiological predictors of traditional family values

Levetne Littvay, Central European University

Disc: Zsolt Enyedi, Central European University

12:00-13:00: Lunch break

13:00-14:00:

Lecture: Behavioral Decision Theory and Information Processing

Keynote: David Redlawsk, Rutgers University

Room: Popper, Monument Building

14:00-15:30:

Workshop: A workshop on dynamic process tracing: Collecting data as decisions are made

Instructor: David Redlawsk, Rutgers University

Room: Popper, Monument Building